What is Hawaiian about pharmacy?

A big part of working in the health industry is understanding the biology and chemistry of the body. To be an effective health professional you must understand the how and the why of forces working inside and outside the body. As a Hawaiian you must understand your environment and how it affects you and how you affect it and this parallel is what makes pharmacy Hawaiian to me.

Who inspired me?

After volunteering at Tripler hospital in Oahu I was inspired by the oncology pharmacist and diabetes specialist and the impact they had on their patients.

What is my passion?

To provide high quality health services to my clients.
